PARLIAMENT OPENED.

The Dominion House assembled in due course at Ottawa pursuant to announcement. The speech is a succinct and comprehensive document. Loyal devotion to Britain is expressed in terms of sympathy with the Grandmother and the Parents of the deceased Duke of Clarence.

Next to Canada's filial affection for Britain comes our relations with the neighboring Republic. The difficulty over the Seal Fisheries is in the hands of commissioners appointed by Britain and the United States and no doubt will be adjusted on terms that will be satisfactory to both governments.

Reciprocity negotiations as between Canada and the United States have been alluded to. So far nothing very definite has been arranged—beyond a valuable interchange of views.

The Civil Service Commission will submit their report during the present session and the suggestion of important reforms may be expected.

Beet root sugar, British Columbia fisheries, the criminal law, the gerry mander and sundry other measures give promise of legislation that will be conducive to the material interests of the Dominion.

RECIPROCITY IN TARIFFS

The conferences at Washington between Canadian ministers and Secretary Blaine were confidential. They were informal by special request of Mr. Blaine. The intention was simply to compare views for the purpose of ascertaining if any ground could be found on which it would be possible to meet to negotiate a reciprocity treaty. No official statement has been made by either party to the conference, and consequently nothing is known by anybody except those who took part in it as to the nature of the views expressed, the suggestions made, or the possible results of that conference. The press reports sent out are pure guess work where they are not the malicious concoctions of conspirators angry at any earnest and honest attempt to put the trade relations of Canada and the United States on a better footing. Consequently all the reports of failure are guesses at the best. Reasonable men and fair-minded men will wait till some report is made either by Mr. Blaine or by the Canadian ministers before they make up their minds respecting their attempt to secure reciprocity.

If the report that the attempt has resulted in failure be true then nothing remains but for Canada to pursue the even tenor of her way, and make such laws as will best secure her own interests. Among these laws may possibly be a readjustment of duties. At present duties on goods coming from all countries are the same; but duties on raw materials or goods which are not manufactured in Canada are lower than on finished products and goods which are manufactured in Canada. And, as Canada imports a long line of raw materials from the United States, it follows that the average rate of duty on such imports is lower than on goods imported from other countries. In the last fiscal year the average rate of duty on all goods entered for consumption was 20.06 per cent. But duties on all imports from the United States averaged less than 15 per cent.

The United States government revises its tariff to suit itself. It had a perfect right to do so. While the average rate of duty on all imports was reduced, the average rate on all imports from Canada was enormously increased. Canada is not disposed to retaliate. Retaliation is commercial war. But, seeing that this discrimination against Canada was made, if it shall now appear that the United States government has refused to make any treaty of reciprocity, then it will become the duty of our parliament to protect Canadian interests, and secure to the Canadian farmer, the Canadian manufacturer and the Canadian artisan their own market, especially against countries which so carefully hedge in their own markets against Canadian goods. If we cannot have reciprocity in trade we can have reciprocity in tariffs.—Hamilton Spectator.

Canada is much interested in knowing how commercial negotiations between the Mother country and Spain progress, because our products only enter Cuba on the same terms as American products till June 30, unless a new arrangement is concluded. A question on this point was asked in the Imperial Parliament, and the answer of the Government was that the subject of commercial negotiations for replacing the existing convention by a new treaty is engaging the attention of the two Governments, and a communication on the subject is shortly expected from the Government of Spain. So far, so good.

Dr. Nansen, the Norwegian, who intends to drift across the North Pole from the mouth of the Lena, one of the three great Siberian rivers flowing into the Arctic Ocean is now on a tour in Britain. He is described by the English newspapers as a young man who speaks with confidence. The perilous journey upon which he proposes to embark, is one that could only count the confidence of youth. Dr. Nansen has persuaded himself of the existence of currents of fresh, warm water in the Arctic Ocean, but he has not convinced older and more experienced explorers than himself about it.

Lord Knutsford, Secretary for the Colonies, stated in the House of Lords that the reductions in the West Indian tariffs on United States goods were not preferential, as they applied to imports from countries other than the United States. The Imperial Government, Lord Knutsford added, had willingly consented to the reductions. This intimation, which is hardly news to Canada, is quite satisfactory. It indicates the pleasure with which the Home Government views trade arrangements between colonies and foreign countries that are not exclusive or preferential in character. The arrangement of the United States with the West Indies, according to the text of the correspondence between Sir Julian Pauncefote and Mr. Flaine, just laid before Congress, "shall remain in force so long as it shall not be modified by the mutual agreement of the executive power of the two Governments, or by the legislative action of the Government of the United States or of the said colonies, with the approval of the British Government."

Even if the Conservatives win no more seats in Ontario the record will stand in this province: Conservatives 53, Opposition 39—a Conservative majority of 14. This is pretty good for the great central province. We would not be surprised to see the Ontario majority exceed 20 pretty soon.

The time for receiving petitions has been extended until Monday next, and for introducing private bills a week later.

F. C. Baker has just received and opened out a complete range of Spring and Summer Dry Goods.

Major Hay, of the Boucher settlement, came into town yesterday. The major reports traveling hard work at present.

Owing to the recent heavy snow drift the trails between the different settlements and the town are in bad shape for travelling.

Mr. A. Spence, of Red Deer Hill, came into town yesterday. He reports the roads through the country as very heavy, owing to the recent drift of snow.

The H. B. Co. and R. G. Givane have applied for a wholesale liquor license for the town. T. O. has applied for a license for the Queen's Hotel.

Last Thursday's train had a hard time. It did not reach Regina till late Saturday evening, necessitating the cancellation of that day's train for Prince Albert.

A general meeting of the Prince Albert Board of Trade is called for Friday afternoon next in the Reading Room at 4 o'clock, for the purpose of re-electing officers, as through some informality the last election is considered to be illegal.

R. T. Goodfellow has purchased from W. Tait the building formerly occupied by H. McCall as a bakery. Mr. Goodfellow intends opening up a bakery on the premises, and will remove his stock of confectionery and groceries to the same building.

The final game for the Clarke medal at the Saskatchewan Curling Club came off this morning between G. T. Brown and Capt. Norman. The ice was very dull, and muscle won, Capt. Norman making twelve to Brown's five, and winning by seven points. The captain played an excellent game throughout the match.

Rev. Father Fourmond, who underwent an operation at the St. Boniface hospital last week, died yesterday, the effects of the operation having proved too severe for the weakened condition of his constitution. Father Fourmond was sixty-four years of age. He came to this country from France twenty years ago and since that time until he came to St. Boniface for medical treatment, where he was stationed near Prince Albert, where he won the love and esteem of his parishioners who will deeply mourn his demise. —Winnipeg Free Press.

As soon as it is fit to play on, all curlers should take every advantage of the good ice, as the season for this healthful pastime is fast drawing to a close. We hope to hear of arrangements being made for the annual bonspiel shortly.

Mayor Donaldson received last week from Winnipeg the sad news of the death of one of Prince Albert's oldest inhabitants, John Wymerskirch, who had gone there for treatment. The body arrived here by last evening's train, and was buried today in the St. C. Cemetery. In our next issue we will give fuller particulars.

FARMERS' INSTITUTE.

A public meeting was held in Lindsay school house on Saturday, the 20th inst. of February, at 10 o'clock p.m., for the purpose of devising some sort of organization for the mutual benefit of farmers.

Mr. F. Miner was called to the chair, and Mr. C. Adams acted as secretary.

Addresses were given by Messrs. Miner, Kemler, Giles, Jackson, Adams and Spence. Mr. R. Giles favored a Farmers' Union. Messrs. Kemler and Adams advocated a Farmers' Institute, provided the O. M. M. does not prevent farmers from joining together for buying their binding twine, as to less figures on the line.

The meeting then passed a resolution pledging themselves to organize for the mutual benefit of the farmers.

It was also resolved that Mr. Giles communicate with institutions in the east re the working of farmers' societies, and report at a future meeting as to the same phase the 3rd Saturday in March at 10 o'clock p.m.

The meeting also resolved that a copy of proceedings of meeting be sent to each local paper requesting a publication of the same.

Above proceedings were then endorsed by the following: F. Miner, R. Giles, C. Adams, T. Kemler, G. Jackson, T. R. Jackson, P. Spence, A. Spence, J. R. Adams, C. P. Adams, R. H. Adams, R. D. Sanderson, R. W. Bayliss, G. G. Bayliss, A. Bayliss, T. G. Bayliss, D. Bayliss, R. Bayliss, G. Bayliss, M. McLaughlin.

OPENING OF PARLIAMENT.

Ottawa, Feb. 25.—The second session of the Seventh Parliament of the Dominion of Canada was opened by Lord Stanley of Preston. The weather was magnificent and many large crowds attended the ceremony. Lord Stanley arrived sharp at three o'clock, and the usual thirteen gun salute, and attended by a guard of honor of the Governor-General's Foot Guards with the Princess Louise Dragoon Guards as escort. In the House of Commons Speaker White took the chair as three, a good attendance of members being present, who journeyed to the Senate chamber on receiving the summons of Speaker Reid. Here the scene was as usual, gorgeous, crowds of ladies in full dress, military and diplomatic uniforms and the many colored rays of the sun which streamed through the stained glass windows all combining in one grand effect. The Speaker and Commons having arrived, Lord Stanley delivered the speech from the throne.

The commons then returned to their chamber and both Houses adjourned. Amongst those present were Premier Abbott, Sir Adolphe Caron, Sir John Thompson, Hon. Mackenzie Bowell, J. C. Patterson, Dewdney, Haggart and Osmert, Col. Luy, the American Consul and Mr. Van Buyell, the Belgian Consul, were also present.

"German Syrup"

Martinsville, N.J., Methodist Parsonage. "My acquaintance with your remedy, Boschee's German Syrup, was made about fourteen years ago, when I contracted a Cold which resulted in a Hoarseness and a Cough which disabled me from filling my pulpit for a number of Sabbaths. After trying a Physician, without obtaining relief—I cannot say now what remedy he prescribed—I saw the advertisement of your remedy and obtained a bottle. I received such quick and permanent help from it that whenever we have had Throat or Bronchial troubles since in our family, Boschee's German Syrup has been our favorite remedy and always with favorable results. I have never hesitated to report my experience of its use to others when I have found them troubled in like manner." REV. W. H. HAGGARTY, of the Newark, New Jersey, M.E. Conference, April 25, '90.
